No guns in DC remember?

permalink parent save report block reply▲ Glowie 29 minutes ago +4 / -1

Who the fuck is going to enforce no guns if 200K people out of the million are carrying? Sure as fuck wouldn't be the DC police. I was under the impression we were fighting for our freedoms here today. Apparently I was wrong.

They can't arrest everyone if the number is that overwhelming? That was the whole point, we were organized and resolved or so I thought.

if there's noguns then we've already lost. What would we do, just punch the commie guard? We wouldn't even be able to get close, whereas they'll just drop us with their M16s.

7 No matter what anyone says, no matter who says it, today is the day that the election, and the fate of the United States, is decided. No more audits. No more debates. No delays. This is the most organized and energized that we will ever be. This is our only opportunity to show the world a People strong and united, our only opportunity to make those who would crush us under the heel of communism say "woah is me". Be strong and courageous. This is the time to fulfill those deep longings to rise up with your fellow Americans and restore morality and the Constitutional Republic. If we fail to act today, there will be no tomorrow. The United States is not about one man. This movement is not about one man. This movement is about restoring the liberty and prosperity of We the People. Rise up and take back what was stolen for us! Communism has reared its ugly head and given us a taste of what is to come: Extreme oppression and poverty under the guise of "health and safety". As soon as they are able, they will take our firearms and then we will become as helpless lambs being led to the slaughter. They will force that "vaccine" on all of us, or they will take away our ability to engage in commerce. They will force it on our children, or they will take them away by force. Sure, we can try to resist as individuals, but we would be painted as lunatics or extremists. Now is the time to present a united opposition to evil. Can a nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal, long yet endure? Today is the day that our American spirit will be tested. Rise up! Liberty in this life is not granted by ink and parchment, but by the blood of patriots and tyrants.

Don't let to boomers saying things like "you guys are only here to incite violence" even make you hesitate. Punch them in the dentures and push on. It must be done. Today is the day. Don't leave this mess for our children.

1 Let me know when everyone here is past the point of believing peaceful protests and posting on the internet will do anything and you're ready to actually cross the Rubicon. I'm done with participating in purely political solutions and await when you are too.

I'm not in DC today but I'm pretty close for when the next "shot heard 'round the world" finally goes off. If that's today, then I'll see you fuckers tonight, otherwise, you let the rest of us through with sloganeering know when you're ready.
